Burbank Community YMCA Member Breaks Guinness World Record for Number of Push-Ups Done in One Hour Edric Machi Beats Old Record by 28 With 1,902 Push-Ups

Providence High School senior Edric Machi had something to put on his college applications that no others did. He is the current Guinness World Record holder for the most push-ups done in one hour. The Burbank Community YMCA member broke the previous record of 1,874 set on January 11, 2014 by Carlton Williams in Western Australia.

"I got inspired by reading the Guinness Book of World Records, but I wasn't sure at the time which record I wanted to take on," said Machi. "I've never been a good runner, I don't play sports and didn't consider myself very athletic. But then I read about Charles Servizio's record of 46,000 push-ups in one day."

Edric thought that not many people are likely to go for beating that particular record, so he immediately got down on the floor and did as many as he could—33. Far from record breaking, but he persisted day-after-day and saw his numbers gradually continue to go up. He started training at home, but then joined the Y to get a more intensive, full-body workout to help increase his strength and endurance.

One year later on May 26, 2015, Edric – under the watch of Guinness World Records official judge Robert Wright; Burbank Community YMCA trainer Jeremy Shelton; and a cheering crowd of friends, teachers and family – Edric made the attempt, beating the old record by 28 with a total of 1,902 push-ups.

"At 50 minutes in, I was only at 1,600 and I didn't think I was going to make it", said Edric. "But the crowd cheering me on helped me to keep going."

Not stopping at this achievement, Edric is thinking about trying to break both the 12- and 24-hour records, but concedes it will take more years of training. In the interim, the 18 year-old who speaks six languages, will be going to American University in Washington, D.C. this fall to focus on International Relations in the hopes of achieving his other dream of becoming a diplomat or translator.

Push-ups will be his college sport. ■

California Congressman Adam Schiff Honored by Glendale YMCA & Other Local Ys

Congressman Adam Schiff (CA-28) was honored May 26 by local YMCAs in recognition of his ongoing and exemplary support of the nonprofit sector and of Los Angeles YMCAs within the 28th district.

On Feb. 25, Schiff was presented with the YMCA Congressional Champion award in a reception on Capitol Hill during the YMCA of the USA's 22nd annual National Advocacy Days in Washington, D.C. At the conference, more than 300 YMCA leaders from across the country visited members of Congress to discuss the vital role that YMCAs play in communities nationwide and to urge them to advance policies that support nurturing youth, promoting healthy living and fostering social responsibility.

Schiff was honored for his leadership role in protecting our nation's youth through his co-sponsorship of the Child Protection Improvements Act.

Commented Schiff – whose family has long held a YMCA membership – about the Y's role in youth development and community advancement, "I can't think of any other organization that fits that niche better than the Y."

On hand to help present the award were teens from the Y's Youth & Government program. ■

Burbank Noon Lions Offer Free "KidSight" Eye Screening

By Marva Murphy

Rarely does it occur to parents that their babies/pre-school children may have anything other than normal vision. Yet statistically speaking, 20-25% of children enter school with undiagnosed vision problems that can affect their learning, development and progress, often, with harmful, lifelong results.

As "Knights of the Blind", members of the Burbank Noon Lions developed the KidSight Burbank program, to offer free eye screenings for children six months to six years of age, in order to provide early detection of abnormal vision. Because the program has received Congressional recognition for outstanding service to the community, KidSight Burbank volunteers were recently invited to participate in the Burbank Temple Emanu El Health Fair, which was open to the general public.

As the KidSight project expanded, volunteers formed the KidSight Burbank club "Branch". The "Branch" was created for those wishing to donate their time specifically to the KidSight project by promoting as well as participating with the actual screening process, be it nursery schools, day care centers or public events. While still full-fledged members of Lions Clubs International and the Burbank Noon Lions, the KidSight Burbank Branch is an "e-club", with all organizing meetings etc. taking place online, as needed.

Support for the program is provided by fundraising efforts of the Burbank Noon

A Burbank Tradition for 32 Years: Farmers Market Still Going Strong

The Burbank Certified Farmers Market is still going strong after 32 years and is adding more patron services all the time. It remains one of the only non-profit markets in Southern California. Our part of the Farmers proceeds raised at the market, support the Providence St. Joseph Hospital Foundation which provides medical care to as many as 12,000 persons a year who cannot afford treatment.

The Market continues to accept EBT Advantage Cards, WIC, ( Women, Infants, and Children nutrition program ) coupons, and Seniors Nutrition Program coupons. Our Burbank Community Service Corner is open to any Burbank Service Club, Non Profit Organization, and Burbank City Department, to better inform the Market Patrons about the many community services that are available to them. Stop by the Information Booth at the market to pick up information on what is in season and how it is grown. We have 5 organic farmers, and 30 Certified farmers, which includes 8 processed food vendors.

Each week several hundred shoppers crowd the market seeking the freshest fruits and vegetables available. Shoppers are not only guaranteed that they are getting the best products but they are also helping those who are in need to get the best medical care. Join other families of shoppers in a warm and friendly atmosphere.

Introduce yourself to our Market Manager Denise at the Information Booth and see first hand what we have to offer. One lovely Patron once said that, "Saturday would not be Saturday in Burbank without the Farmers Market"

The Market is open every Saturday from 8:00am to 12:30pm, Rain or Shine, except Christmas and New Years Day. Located in the City Hall Parking Lot, at the corner of Third and Orange Grove. Free Parking is available in the adjacent parking structures on Orange Grove. ■

Boys & Girls Club of Burbank and Greater East Valley Celebrate New Garden

The Leadership Burbank Class of 2015 hosted a ribbon cutting ceremony on May 8, 2015 at the Boys & Girls Club of Burbank and Greater East Valley. The class project was to revitalize the front garden area of the Boys & Girls Club of Burbank and Greater East Valley. In addition to the new garden area, the class also supplied signage for the Club.

CEO Shanna Warren said that "having this new garden area is wonderful." On hand for the ribbon cutting ceremony was Mayor Bob Frutos, Leadership Burbank facilitators, Mary Alvord and Sue Georgina, Leadership Burbank Board Chair, Joy Forbes, the Class of 2015, Boys & Girls Club staff and members.

Remarkd Warren, "During the summer, the majority of school sites are closed but the main club remains open. By having access to the front yard area, staff will be able to create new outdoor programs as well as use the new space for other outdoor activities."

The kids couldn't wait to get their hands dirty, as they immediately began planting right after the ribbon was cut!

Lions, as well as collaborations with public and private sponsorships in order to allow the service to be offered at no charge to parents of pre-school children. The Zonta Club of Burbank will be partnering with KidSight Burbank to host an eye screening for the younger siblings of children participating in the upcoming “Back to School” event. This will be the second year Zonta Club of Burbank has hosted a screening, following a successful screening in 2014, which identified five children needing follow up examinations.

Among the Lions Clubs in the San Fernando Valley offering KidSight programs, more than 2,000 children have been screened. Of those, more than ten percent were identified with vision issues requiring follow-up care.

Companies and organizations are invited to sponsor a KidSight screening at a child-care facility or in conjunction with a special event they may be hosting as part of their community outreach.

For contact information about becoming a member of the Burbank Noon Lions, the KidSight Burbank branch or sponsoring a screening, please visit www.burbanknoonlions.org. ■

Burbank Tournament of Roses Association

By Robert Hutt

The Tournament of Roses Parade on New Year's Day is all the more spectacular when you realize that every inch of what you see is natural materials in their natural colors! For more than 125 years, the parade has been a "floral" parade. In order to make sure that future float builders continue the tradition, the parade organizers publish the Float Manual. The manual runs to several hundred pages and covers topics as varied as sponsorships, float construction, emergency procedures and more! This month I'll discuss some aspects of decoration.

The first sentence of the section that deals with decoration states that "...the float must present an appearance that is predominantly floral." The judges will award lower scores to floats that do not present a predominantly floral appearance. The last sentence of that same paragraph warns float builders that a significant lack of said floral presentation may subject the builder "...to a financial or other penalty." Flowers are serious business in this parade!

Floral materials are pretty much what one thinks they are: flower blossoms. I was a bit surprised to learn that fresh leaves, vegetables and fruits are classed among the "non-floral natural materials!" Even flower blossoms, when dried and chopped, become "non-floral processed materials!"

No materials may be used if they have been dyed or treated by any means (natural or synthetic) to change their color. Even fresh flowers to which natural or synthetic dyes were used during their growing cycle are forbidden. Interestingly, however, roasted ground coffee is acceptable!

If we can maintain a good balance between floral and non-floral materials; use the non-floral stuff to make the flowers look great, there are several potential awards waiting for us! The Queen's Trophy for best use of roses. The Past-President's Trophy for most creative design and use of both floral and non-floral material. The Sweepstakes Trophy as the most beautiful entry in the parade. The Grand Marshal's Trophy for excellence in creative concept and design. We have previously won all of these awards and hope to add to our total in 2016!

Our current work schedule is Wednesdays and Saturdays between 10:00 AM and 4:00 PM. The construction site is located at 123 W. Olive Ave. Please park in the Metro Link lot. Questions? Call the Barn at 818-840-0060 and leave a message or visit our website at: www.BurbankRoseFloat.com! ■

Burbank Noon Lions Request Used Glasses for Nepal Earthquake Victims

Emergency water, food and blankets are a top priority when a disaster like the Nepal earthquake hits. However, when recovery begins, there are other basic needs, which are critical to well being. Lions in Sight, www.lionsinsight.org a charitable foundation under the Lions Club International umbrella, has been collecting and recycling eyeglasses for under-developed countries for years via clinic missions. In times of disaster, recycled glasses are provided as well, in conjunction with the Lions Clubs International Foundation (LCIF), the charitable arm of Lions Club International, funded by individual Lions Clubs around the world.

Lions club members in Nepal are bringing immediate relief, especially in remote locations and hoping to provide as many glasses as are made available.

When catastrophes occur, LCIF and Lions In Sight answer the call for help. LCIF funding was made available to bring truck loads of water to Ground Zero after 9/11; over the course of one year, 300 homes were built for those left homeless by the Tsunami; 360,000 pairs of glasses were also provided for Tsunami victims.

LCIF funding went for immediate relief for the victims of the major earthquake to hit China not long ago, with continued support to rebuild lives and villages. Through Lions' efforts, people who are in such desperate need, receive hope and healing. Lions around the world are joining together to serve their communities and support their goal of helping 100 million people by the 100th anniversary of Lions Clubs International in 2017. The community is invited to take part in the project by collecting all their used glasses and dropping them off at any of the three Burbank Libraries, the Burbank Recycle Center, also Joslyn and Tuttle Adult Centers.

"There's nothing like the feeling of giving back and helping those in need," said William Narez, Burbank Noon Lions club president. Tax-deductible donations may also be made for services to be provided to Nepalese victims. Lions Clubs International is the largest service club organization in the world. Its 1.35 million members in more than 46,000 clubs are serving communities in more than 200 countries and geographical areas around the globe. Since 1917, Lions clubs have aided the blind and visually impaired, championed youth initiatives and strengthened local communities through hands-on service and humanitarian projects. Contact www.burbanknoonlions.org for more information about the programs of Lions Clubs International, the Burbank Noon Lions or to donate on behalf of Nepal earthquake victims. ■

City of Burbank & Burbank Community YMCA Share the Vision of the Special Olympics

Burbank is Host Town to Bi-Annual World Games July 25 - Aug. 2

"Part of what Special Olympics is trying to do is break down stereotypes that still exist for people. There is still a lot of fear," says journalist, activist and former California first lady Maria Shriver about the organization for intellectually disabled kids and adults, which was founded by her mother, Eunice Kennedy Shriver, in 1968.

More than 7,000 athletes from 177 countries will descend upon L.A. to show the true meaning of courage, joy and determination. Athletes will be competing in 25 different sports at venues throughout the city, including USC and UCLA.

And while most people have heard of the high-profile competition, many of us are unaware that the organization provides year-round sports training and athletic competition. The Burbank Community YMCA shares many values with the Special Olympics and provides those who are handicapped with opportunities to improve their physical fitness and well-being.

In fact, in partnership with the Burbank Center for the Retarded (BCR), the Burbank Y offers a variety of classes for their clients including yoga, group exercise, swimming and dance. Above-and-beyond the physical health benefits, including building muscle strength, improving balance, boosting immunity and regulating blood pressure, the BCR clients have found work-outs to be especially beneficial for mood and mental balancing. The Burbank YMCA also offers job training opportunities for developmentally disabled persons in partnership with PathPoint.

As Los Angeles welcomes the bi-annual Special Olympics World Games competition, July 25 to Aug. 2 (held in the U.S. for the first time in 16 years), the City of Burbank and the Burbank Community YMCA will be hosting athletes, trainers and coaches from Zimbabwe and Botswana the week prior to the games. The ceremonial Torch Run will go through our community at 9 a.m. on July 22 when athletes bring the Flame of Hope to Burbank City Hall. Spectators are welcome to attend this public event.

For Special Olympics event and/or volunteer information, visit www.la2015.org. For more information about the Burbank Community YMCA visit www.burbankymca.org. ■
