Welcome Home to Burbank, LA Law Center!

Since the 1990s, the Korb and McHugh families have been friends, back when their kids were playmates and they all took part in the YMCA Guides program together. But for years, Joe and Kathy McHugh had their successful elder law and estate planning firm LA Law Center in Glendale. Brad Korb is delighted that in late 2016, they moved their offices “home” to Burbank. Now all settled in, the McHughs and the staff of their busy law center are happy about it, too.

“Joe and I live in Shadow Hills. Most of our staff lives in the Valley. Glendale was a bit out-of-the-way, so we decided to move closer. Now we don’t need to get on the freeway to get to work,” said Kathy McHugh. “And it’s nice to have Brad as a neighbor. Burbank is a great new home.”

The McHughs work together in a family owned and operated Elder Law & Estate Planning firm (3100 W. Burbank Blvd., Ste. 201; 818-241-4238; www.la-lawcenter.com) that has earned an excellent, trusted reputation for helping families with Asset Protection, Medi-Cal Qualifications for persons with assets (by legally transferring assets), preventing Medi-Cal Estate Recovery, Probate Administration, Wills, Living Trusts, Special Needs Trusts, Irrevocable Trusts, Charitable Remainder Trusts and basic Disability Planning.

LA Law Center, PC provides a comfortable environment to bring a loved one for expert legal advice on protecting your family's estate, and help with government assistance programs such as Medi-Cal Long Term Care when in a skilled nursing home. They're experts in Medi-Cal planning, especially when in crisis and your Medicare nursing home 100 days is running out! They offer free consultations to review your estate and long term care plans. ■

Burbank Community YMCA welcomes Showcase Basketball with open arms

Developing players for the next level!

"I want to be in the NBA!" Those seven words have been repeated by millions of kids across the globe in response to the question, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" For most, this quickly becomes a fading dream, but for a select few, this dream becomes reality.

For Jeff Christensen, founder of Showcase Basketball, the journey to the NBA began at a YMCA in Portland, Oregon at the age of 8. Once Jeff stepped foot on the YMCA hardwood floors, and was taking instruction from one of the Y's most seasoned volunteer coaches, he was hooked. His journey led to stops in four states, four countries, and three continents, before sharing his wealth of experience with our very own Burbank YMCA. Christensen has packaged his experiences to now provide professional, high-level basketball training to kids of all ages and skill levels in a fun and positive setting at the Burbank Y.

After a successful college basketball career and with aspirations to play professionally, Jeff's plans were changed on a summer morning in Portland, when he was injured in a pick-up basketball game, and would be unable to play for the next several months. While sidelined, Jeff's passion for player development took over and he created a weekend clinic where he would bring in twenty of the top high school players from the Portland area and have professional players work with them. Showcase Basketball was born that weekend. Jeff would heal and go on to sign a contract with a team in Norway. Time abroad led to many successes on the court as Jeff was named Import Player of the Year and selected First team (all Norway). Yet despite everything, all he could think about was coaching. Jeff then made the decision to trade in his sneakers for a clipboard, and returned to the NBA-Development League to coach with the Reno Bighorns.

After two seasons under his belt as a professional coach, Jeff received a call to return to Norway to develop domestic basketball talent for the Norwegian Basketball Federation. For the next two years, Jeff would spend his time dedicated to player development in Norway, while also coaching Regional and National teams. In mid-November 2014 Jeff was offered the opportunity to build and operate the NBA's first player academy in Europe. By early January 2015, he was living in Istanbul, Turkey, working on this huge NBA global initiative. For the next year and a half Jeff led basketball development projects for the NBA in Spain, Russia, Brazil, Italy, and all of Southeast Asia.

Yet throughout his experiences, after every camp, new gym, or country, there was always one thing on Jeff's mind - that weekend clinic he conducted in 2009 and Showcase Basketball. His true passion has and always will be youth player development. In Spring 2016, Jeff decided to leave the comforts of the NBA to launch a partnership between his program, Showcase Basketball, and the Burbank Community YMCA.

Basketball is more than a game to Jeff. He has positioned Showcase Basketball to not be about winning or losing, but rather an opportunity for life development, growth in confidence, and exposure to positive experiences for our youth. Jeff realized that the Burbank Y was the perfect partner for Showcase Basketball because their values in youth development aligned, and both organizations are on a mission to help our youth become the best they can be. Showcase Basketball continues to provide unique experiences and leadership opportunities for our youth by bringing in coaches and players from various NBA teams (Los Angeles Lakers, Los Angeles Clippers, Memphis Grizzlies, Indiana Pacers, Philadelphia 76ers, Cleveland Cavaliers, Brooklyn Nets) to share their knowledge, and more importantly to share their own personal journey of how they made their way to the highest level in basketball.

Through Jeff's journey, he has learned three valuable truths that he now shares with kids who are just like he was many years ago, alone, standing in a YMCA gym, holding a ball and a dream. 1) Nothing beats hard work. "Even if you fail, people will notice your work ethic and they will want to help." 2) Treat others the way you want to be treated. "Nothing is more important than the relationships I've made along the way." 3) Be humble. "Do any job to the best of your ability and people will notice your work."

"I want to be remembered as that guy who helped people achieve their full potential and helped them get to the next level," explains Jeff. "That's my personal mission; that's the focus of my company". The mission has been embraced by the Burbank YMCA. As partners, the Burbank Y and Showcase Basketball will push forward in an effort to continue to create positive experiences and provide resources for all youth in our community that have big dreams of their own. At the Burbank Community YMCA our staff, members, donors, volunteers, supporters, and now Showcase Basketball demonstrate the power of what we can achieve, by giving back together. For a Better You. For a Better Community. For a Better Us. ■

Ultra Marathoner Goes the Extra 100 Miles to Fight Cancer

Ultra-marathon runner Roy Wiegand will run 100 miles in 30 hours, June 14, 2017, at Market Place Park in Santa Clarita, 23841 Newhall Ranch Rd., corner of Newhall Ranch Rd. and Grandview Drive, to raise money to fight childhood cancer. The run will end on June 15 at 8 pm at the SENSES block party on Main St. in Newhall.

Wiegand runs for people. He will be lacing up his long-distance running shoes for the fourth year in a row to run the equivalent of four marathons, on behalf of the Michael Hoefflin Foundation, and in memory of 12-year-old Christopher Wilke, who died of cancer in 2014.

Roughly 100,000 children under the age of 15 die from cancer each year worldwide, according to the City of Hope. That's 250 children every day. Wiegand is known for running 100 miles or more for causes such as raising money to bring fresh, clean water to third-world countries on behalf of Lifewater International.

For the past three years, his cause has been a little more personal. Christopher Wilke was the son of a friend. Christopher attended the same Boy Scout troop, Troop 209 in Burbank, Calif., that Wiegand's son attended. Christopher died from cholangiocarcinoma, a rare cancer of bile duct, in March of 2014. Christopher was the first, and only, child ever diagnosed with it at Children's Hospital Los Angeles.

"These ultra runs turn something I love to do, into something much bigger than a personal goal," said Wiegand. "It's the children who inspire me."

Gillian Stone, MHF's executive director said, "Until there is a cure, we will be here, each year stronger than the one before, to help our friends and neighbors in need when they are faced with a child diagnosed with cancer."

The Michael Hoefflin Foundation is a non-profit organization that assists children diagnosed with cancer and their families. The aim of MHF is to ensure families have what they need so that their child can concentrate on getting well.

The Importance of Wealth Management in a Dynamic World

How is wealth like real estate? For one thing, wealth doesn't manage itself. It requires professional services. In a family or business, wealth has its own set of asset and liability needs. For his long-term management, Brad Korb relies on Richard V. Bertain and David Escobar of UBS Financial Services, recommending them with confidence. Korb says these dedicated Certified Financial Planner™ practitioners consistently use premiere customer service and extensive financial resource knowledge for planning and putting in motion long-term goals and objectives.

Bertain, Senior Vice President with UBS Financial Services, has been providing sound financial advice to clients since 1983, earning designation as Certified Investment Management Analyst from the Wharton School. He and Escobar, First Vice President with UBS, are involved in Burbank community organizations ranging from the Burbank Civitan Club and Boy Scouts of America, to the Burbank YMCA and Leadership Burbank.

Bertain and Escobar's Comprehensive Wealth Management approach for high net worth families and businesses is straightforward and thorough: Identify goals, evaluate the situation, develop a financial plan, implement it, and monitor and rebalance as needed. They seek "to perform effectively and efficiently, such that each of our clients would be proud to recommend us to their family and friends."

#4 – “Mr. Janis, My wife and I want to thank you for all the help you have given me and our family. The debt we accumulated was overwhelming and very stressful. John, may God richly bless you for helping me and all those that need your help. Best to you and your company, Lupe”

#5 – “John, Many thanks to you personally and your team at Platinum Resources for helping me get my personal finances back in order. The $100k debt was strangling me, during a period when my work hours were cut back and I was experiencing major family issues. Your personal attention and involvement to help me get through this nightmare was tremendous. Thank you for providing me an opportunity to again have positive cash flow, which has helped my personal life and family. Regards, Eric”

Burbank's Hidden Gem!

If there's one comment we hear more than any other here at the Burbank Historical Society /Gordon R. Howard Museum, it's that we're "Burbank's hidden gem!" And that's quite simply because we are!

Most Burbankers have seen the restored blue Victorian house on Olive in George Izay (Olive Rec) Park. But did you know there is also a 20,000 square-foot museum BEHIND the charming 1887 blue house? Both the house and the large museum are part of the Burbank Historical Society's wonderful museum complex – and both are open FREE to the public on Saturdays and Sundays from 1 to 4 pm.

Did you know that a world-famous heavyweight champion retired right here in Burbank – and that the play/movie "The Great White Hope" is based on his final boxing match? Ever heard of the Oscar-award winning film "I Want to Live"? It was the story of a real-life (and brutal) murder that took place... guess where! Today's growing Empire Center was home to another "empire" of sorts – an aviation empire we're sure you've heard of. And our fair city was named – no, not after Luther Burbank, but by someone else whose ranch house was located somewhere we KNOW you know!!! There's a lot of fascinating history in our museum complex.

Come visit! There is free parking right behind George Izay Park, off Clark Street. You'll be glad you did!

Burbank Tournament of Roses Association

By Robert Hutt

As I write this, Burbank's Rose Parade float does not yet have an official title. We are still using the working title: "Clean It Up." The float depicts a variety of aquatic animals working together to clean up their beach front home area after what might have been a typical weekend of humans on the sands. The discarded items are being sorted into proper containers for disposal or recycling. This design sends a very strong message and it is quite a departure from our previous float themes, but it ties in perfectly with the overall parade theme of "Making A Difference!" Tournament of Roses president Lance Tibbet says that "the theme is a way to honor and celebrate all of the people in our communities, who quietly and without desire for reward or recognition, act in selfless, generous and kind ways to aid or benefit others." We've put a different spin to it by celebrating the animals who are making a difference in their community.

We are also slipping behind schedule in producing our final color rendering! Strictly speaking, we should have submitted an electronic copy of the rendering to Tournament officials by now. We join many of the professionals who are also delinquent! Our schedule slippage has a more direct impact on the production of our t-shirts, patches, pins and other souvenirs. We would like to have these items delivered in time for the Craft Faire in October, but the clock is ticking.

With a working title of "Clean It Up" the float designed by Catherine Glandon and Fred Fraleigh will represent Burbank in the 2018 Tournament of Roses Parade on New Year's Day in Pasadena.

BTORA president Ginny Barnett is still looking for a Decoration Committee Chairman and is doing her best to keep things moving forward as the arm-twisting continues! Another couple of Deco Committee meetings have been held to finalize the color scheme. Just as important as the color scheme is knowing what flowers are needed to achieve the desired colors. The June-July period is when we should begin placing orders for the fresh flowers, but we need to know surface areas to know how much to order. More details and the clock is ticking.

For the past two months, Construction Chairman Bob Hutt has been conducting welding classes for beginners but the team has yet to hold its first meeting. In general, the float will be about 45 feet long, 18 feet wide and 25 feet tall. The octopus will be the focus of animation efforts with several moving tentacles. The sea otter will rock in his inner tube while the seal balances bottles on their way to recycling. The rear area will be decorated to represent a tide pool. All towers in the castle will need to retract to about 15 feet tall just to get the float through the front door!

After a brief hiatus, the Craft Faire is scheduled to return to our float construction Barn on the first Saturday of October! That Saturday will also be the first of our formal test drives for Tournament inspectors! Keep the date open and start jotting down your holiday gift ideas!

If you would like to lend a hand to help build Burbank's float, visit the float Barn on any Wednesday or Saturday between 10:00 AM and 4:00 PM. The Barn is located at 123 W. Olive Ave. (under the Olive Ave overpass). The phone number at the Barn is 818-840-0060. Visit our website: www.BurbankRoseFloat.com and follow us on Facebook! ■
