Certain Forecast of Snow and You are Invited!

Join us to play in the snow starting at 5 p.m. on Nov. 16 during Burbank's Annual Holiday in the Park. Though skies may be clear, there'll be tons – literally – of the fluffy white stuff in Magnolia Park in the UME parking lot on the Friday before Thanksgiving. Fresh snow for a pure white playground highlights a full evening of fun (5 – 9 p.m.) with stores open late, a delicious array of food trucks, and all kinds of attractions for the whole family to greet the holidays in style, including Santa himself!

This year, aside from sponsoring the well-timed snowfall for a 5th year in a row, Brad Korb Real Estate Group will also host a drawing for five $100 Amazon.com gift cards. The lucky winners, whose names will be drawn from those stopping by the Brad Korb Real Estate Group table!

"Holiday in the Park is a kind of combination holiday celebration and open house for our Magnolia Park neighborhood. But mostly, the holidays are all about the wonderment of children," said Korb, a long-time co-sponsor of the event. "We first brought snow to Magnolia Park in 2014. It is so much fun to see little kids experience snow for the first time that we've been doing it ever since. It's our way of saying Happy Holidays and Happy New Year!" ■

The Walt Disney Company Announces $1 Million Investment in the Boys & Girls Club of Burbank and Greater East Valley

The Boys & Girls Club of Burbank and Greater East Valley is proud to announce that The Walt Disney Company is donating a one-million-dollar lead gift for the Club's Capital Campaign for a new Main Club facility.

The donation from Disney will provide the funds needed to build the new facility, giving 400 Boys & Girls Club members a safe place to go after school. The new facility will be a two-story, 16,000 square foot space, which will have two multi-purpose rooms, a games room, creative arts space, STEM lab, teen club, two learning centers, teaching kitchen, conference room and garden/roof patio.

Surrounded by Club supporters, City of Burbank stakeholders, Burbank Unified School District personnel, political representatives and special guests, Elissa Margolis, Disney's Senior Vice President, Enterprise Social Responsibility, presented Boys & Girls Club CEO Shanna Warren with the check.

Standing on what will be the future site of the Club, Warren said, "For the last ten years, we have been on a journey to acquire a new main club facility that meets our ever expanding needs. Because of The Walt Disney Company's confidence in the Club and financial support, we have just taken a major step forward in making our dream come true."

"The Walt Disney Company is pleased to make this contribution and fund the construction of a new main club facility," said Margolis. "The impact of this new club will more than double the number of members served by The Boys & Girls Club and provides a safe place that meets the diverse needs of our local youth."

Also on hand was Matt Hill, superintendent of Burbank Unified School District and Jen Culbertson, principal of Providencia Elementary School. "This project has been a joint effort with BUSD and our Club," said Warren. "We look forward to sharing the new facility with BUSD."

The Boys & Girls Club of Burbank and Greater East Valley opened its doors in 1995. For the past 24 years it has been a premier youth development organization serving more than 3700 youth a year, in six different cities including, Burbank, North Hollywood, North Hills, Van Nuys, Sun Valley and Hollywood. Offering a variety of programs including Creative Arts, Athletics, STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) College Bound and the only Deaf and Hard of Hearing program in the area, the Club's mission is to help every child reach their full potential, focuses on academic success, health lifestyles and character and leadership.

The project is expected to be completed by fall of 2020. ■

Burbank Boy Scouts Celebrate Summer Accomplishments Retiring Scoutmaster Honored

Boy Scouts Earn 80 Merit Badges Over Summer

Boy Scouts from Burbank's Troop 201 held their quarterly Court of Honor on Wednesday, August 29th, 2018. The Scouts were recognized for their merit badge work and Rank Advancements.

Troop 201 spent a week in July at Wente Scout Reservation in Willits, CA. Assistant Scoutmasters Mike Buchanan, Ryan Dreyer and Kirk Wheeler attended camp with 20 Scouts. Scouts earned badges for a variety of topics including Horsemanship, Rifle and Shotgun Shooting, Moviemaking, Fingerprinting, Environmental Science, Archery, and Astronomy. Some favorite activities were those involving the camp lake.

Six Scouts earned rank advancements over the summer. Requirements for Rank Advancement are earned during summer camp, at Scout Meetings, and on Troop camping trips. Five Scouts were honored for "camping nights", with a notable Noah Birnbaum completing 100 nights of camping with the troop.

Retiring Scoutmaster Nancy Durkee was recognized and thanked for her leadership of Troop 201 for the past nine years. She was awarded a certificate from the Burbank City Council presented by Vice-Mayor Sharon Springer and City Councilman Bob Frutos. The Troop presented her with a personalized memory box filled with letters from the Boy Scouts and their families.

The ceremony was followed by a potluck dinner with family and friends.

Troop 201 meets Wednesday nights at 7 p.m. at The Lighthouse at Magnolia Park UMC at 2828 W Magnolia Blvd. in Burbank. ■

The Importance of Wealth Management in a Dynamic World

How is wealth like real estate? For one thing, wealth doesn't manage itself. It requires professional services. In a family or business, wealth has its own set of asset and liability needs. For his long-term management, Brad Korb relies on Richard V. Bertain and David Escobar of UBS Financial Services, recommending them with confidence. Korb says these dedicated Certified Financial Planner™ practitioners consistently use premiere customer service and extensive financial resource knowledge for planning and putting in motion long-term goals and objectives.

Bertain, Senior Vice President with UBS Financial Services, has been providing sound financial advice to clients since 1983, earning designation as Certified Investment Management Analyst from the Wharton School. He and Escobar, First Vice President with UBS, are involved in Burbank community organizations ranging from the Burbank Civitan Club and Boy Scouts of America, to the Burbank YMCA and Leadership Burbank.

Bertain and Escobar's Comprehensive Wealth Management approach for high net worth families and businesses is straightforward and thorough: Identify goals, evaluate the situation, develop a financial plan, implement it, and monitor and rebalance as needed. They seek "to perform effectively and efficiently, such that each of our clients would be proud to recommend us to their family and friends."

The Burbank YMCA Run for a Better Us!

The Burbank YMCA Turkey Trot attracts racers at all levels, but hands down, the most inspirational participant is Shannon Callahan. Shannon was born with Down syndrome and has tackled many challenges but that didn't stop her from taking part in last year's race. Shannon was the last person to cross the finish line but she finished the race. Just in case you're wondering, yes, Shannon will be running in this year's Turkey Trot. Go Shannon!

Shannon's goals don't stop on the race course. In June, Shannon participated in the Special Olympic Summer Championships. Well, she didn't just participate, she medaled. Shannon won Silver in the 50m freestyle, Gold in the 100m backstroke, Gold in the 100m freestyle, and Gold in the 4x25m relay.

If that wasn't impressive enough she was also chosen as 2018 Most Inspirational Athlete of the Year. Shannon is an inspiration on land and in the pool and we are proud of her.

The Y's Turkey Trot is Burbank's biggest and best holiday tradition. So make sure to register today and say hello to Shannon on the race course or just come down to cheer her on. It's a great day for a great cause and all proceeds benefit the Y's Financial Assistance program.

A STAR WAS BORN...RIGHT HERE IN BURBANK!

By Susie Hodgson

"A Star is Born" is a major hit this year. But this isn't the first version of it.

There was one in 1937, another in 1954, a third in 1976 and now we have the fourth. Some people argue this new version is kind of like the fifth version, since the first one was actually loosely based on a 1932 film called "What Price Hollywood?"

All versions of "A Star is Born" have been very successful. But prior to the current "Star is Born," the 1954 version was always considered the very best. And it was made right here in Burbank!

Now, don't worry. I'm not going to spoil the plot line for any of you who haven't seen it. But the history of the 1954 Warner Brothers' "A Star is Born" is chockfull of fascinating trivia.

Judy Garland was the star of the film. But it was because she'd recently been fired from MGM and her then-husband, producer Sid Luft, was trying to get her into a blockbuster movie in which to rebuild her stumbling career. You see, sadly, Garland was a mess. She was irresponsible, erratic, addicted to drugs and alcohol, and broke. She was what they euphemistically called "difficult to work with."

Poor Judy truly had a tragic life. She was an unwanted baby – and she knew it – until her mother realized her little daughter had talent and pushed her on stage at age 2-1/2. Judy later called her mother a "mean stage mother." Judy spent her life dying for attention. Literally. During Judy's 13-year marriage to third husband Luft (she would marry five times in all) he claimed she attempted suicide twenty times.

Due to her extraordinary singing voice, Judy was put under contract with MGM in 1935. She was just a kid – but a kid that Louis B. Mayer, the head of MGM, found a lot to complain about. Not about her voice, but her looks. He dubbed her his little "hunchback" because she stood under five feet tall, with a curved spine and a chubby physique. He refused to let her eat anything but broth, and her mother put her on amphetamines by day, sleeping pills by night. Her addictions started while she was but a teenager – and it lasted until it finally killed her at age 47. She died owing money to the IRS – and to her daughter, Liza.

Meanwhile, back in the early 50s, Sid Luft bankrolled a deal with Warner Brothers to make "A Star is Born." Note: Dorothy Parker primarily penned the 1937 version. The 1954 version was written by another acclaimed writer, Moss Hart. Hart, known for his collaboration with George S. Kaufman on such film greats as "You Can't Take It With You" and "The Man Who Came to Dinner," was also known for another unusual Hollywood happening. He was married, just once, to the same woman till the day he died. And you probably know her, too. Remember Kitty Carlisle, prolific game show panelist? That's her.

The male lead of 1954's "A Star is Born" was British actor, James Mason.

You may have seen him in "North by Northwest" or "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea." Mason was not the first pick for the role – Cary Grant was – but Mason performed brilliantly.

Mason's own life was a soap opera. He was married to socialite Pamela Mason for many years and each accused the other of adultery. After their divorce, he remarried and when he died, he left his vast estate to the second wife, who died soon thereafter herself and left all her money to an off-beat spiritual guru. This caused a huge legal battle between the estate (guru) and Mason's two adult children. The son worked in the Reagan administration and was/is married to Belinda Carlisle, lead singer of the 80s girl group The Go-Gos. The daughter died young of a stroke shortly after the lawsuit was settled. Some say it killed her.

Like James Mason, Garland also gave arguably her very best performance in "A Star is Born" and in this version, unlike the 1937 version, there were musical numbers designed to showcase Garland's talents. Many people credit famed director George Cukor ("The Philadelphia Story," "Born Yesterday," "My Fair Lady") for bringing out the very best in his stars. Coincidentally, Cukor was also offered the director's job on the 1937 version of "A Star is Born," which he turned down.

Even though the film was a seeming hit, it did not make Warner Brothers any money. None. In fact, 1954's "A Star is Born" was the most expensive movie Warner Brothers ever made at that time – no thanks to Judy Garland's complete unreliability.

"A Star is Born" was nominated for six Oscars. Garland was considered an absolute shoo-in for Best Actress. She couldn't be present at the ceremony because she'd just given birth to her third child Joey, so NBC sent a news crew to the hospital to film Judy's reaction to her great win.

But the win was not to come. To everyone's shock, Grace Kelly took the Oscar for "The Country Girl." In fact, "A Star is Born" did not win one single Academy Award – not even for its show-stopping song, "The Man that Got Away." Warners blamed Judy and promptly fired the Luft-Garland team.

In 1976, another version of "A Star is Born" was released starring Barbra Streisand. Her then-boyfriend, hair dresser to the stars Jon Peters, produced it – just like Sid Luft did. Peters did it to re-build Streisand's slowing career – again, just like Luft did. But Streisand's version was deemed the worst of the versions. Luckily for Barbra, on a personal level, Streisand is no Judy Garland. Want to learn more about Burbank's rich history? Then come visit us!

Burbank Tournament of Roses Association

By Robert Hutt

A big "Thank You" to everyone who helped to make last month's Craft Faire and Open House a huge success! Special thanks to Kim Bossley for organizing the event. This is our biggest single fundraiser of the year. With 29 vendors, the "Burnt To A Crisp" food truck and many great raffle prize baskets, it was a fun day for all!

We successfully passed our first Test Drive (T1) for inspectors from Tournament. In fact we did even better than expected although we still need to install propane vent lines to the edge of the float (which we don't do until just before foaming).

Here it is November and things are really beginning to move fast! The next big milestone is Thanksgiving weekend. From Friday through Sunday, we will be focused on getting the float "pod" ready for foaming. Our welders must be finished with their work on the pod because bedsheets and welding sparks don't mix! The main task requires no special skills but does involve tin snips and gloves, hog rings and tape ... and, of course, volunteers!

Until now, the pod has been an open steel mesh. Volunteers will cover the mesh with chicken wire and fasten it with hog rings. Next a layer of bed sheets, also fastened with hog rings. Any gaps or holes will be taped over. Other areas will be masked with newspapers as protection from the foam that is to come. The foam itself is the same material that is used for roofing industrial buildings and is applied with large spray equipment. After it has cured, the foam layer is strong enough to walk on! The next task is to paint the pod and characters with colors that match the flowers that will be applied in a few weeks. Now, it looks like a float!

We try to build the float such that the characters can be removed. This allows us to continue welding work on them even as the pod is prepared for foaming. It also makes decoration a bit easier since hordes of decorators will not be maneuvering for elbow room in cramped spaces on the float.

The characters begin to come to life when the steel mesh is covered with either chicken wire or window screen to provide a surface for the floral decorations yet to come. When the character's surface must be smooth, window screen is glued to the steel mesh. The basic process is to apply glue to both the steel mesh and the part of the screen that will touch the mesh. After the glue sets for a few minutes, press it into place and, voila, the character has a skin! Unfortunately, most surfaces are not simple flat areas. Usually, a series of darts are cut into the screen to help it follow the contours. And the glue doesn't just stick to the steel and the screen! It sticks to fingers, hands, hair, everything! Aside from these minor challenges, the results are spectacular! The open mesh is transformed into a solid looking character!

We could use your help building Burbank's float! Visit the float Barn on any Wednesday or Saturday 10 AM to 4 PM or Sundays between noon and 6 PM. The Barn is located at 123 W. Olive Ave. (under the Olive Ave overpass). The Barn phone number is 818-840-0060. Check out our website: www.BurbankRoseFloat.com and follow us on Facebook! ■

McCrary's Estate Sales by Connor 'Liberates' Clients from Stressful Process

Inheriting a home from a loved one usually means inheriting the furniture, artwork, clothing, jewelry, tools, and other valuables inside, too. Brad Korb has decades of experience helping clients sell inherited real estate at its best value, but first the home must be made move-in ready by removing its contents. To help his clients accomplish that to their best financial advantage, Korb recommends Stephen and Aime McCrary, owners of Estate Sales by Connor.

"Stephen and Aime's family-run company has built a large, loyal following in Southern California among appraisal specialists, collectors, and reputable antique dealers," Korb says. "The McCrarys are ethical and extremely professional. They handle every aspect of an estate sale from start to finish, with the goal of getting as much value as possible for clients."

Stephen McCrary enjoys working with Korb "because when Brad is involved, it's always a smooth transaction," he says. "What we like best about what we do is seeing people liberated from the stress and worry of trying to evaluate, sort, and sell all those items at an emotional time. Many of the items have sentimental value, and some things have value that clients might not realize without our expertise. Our service helps make the whole process much easier."
